NEW AT THE LIBRARY

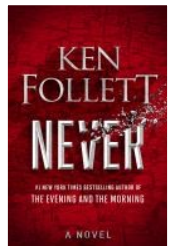

THE 1619 PROJECT BY NIKOLE HANNA-JONES

The award-winning "1619 Project" issue of The New York Times Magazine reframed our understanding of American history by placing slavery and its continuing legacy at the center of our national narrative. This book expands on that work, weaving together essays that explore the legacy of slavery in present-day America with poems and works of fiction that illuminate key moments of oppression, struggle, and resistance.

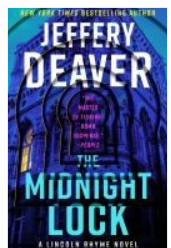

NEVER BY KEN FOLLETT

"Every catastrophe begins with a little problem that doesn't get fixed." So says Pauline Green, President of the United States, in Follett's nerve-racking drama of international tension. A shrinking oasis in the Sahara Desert, a stolen US Army drone, an uninhabited Japanese island, and one country's secret stash of deadly chemical poisons all play roles in a relentlessly escalating crisis.

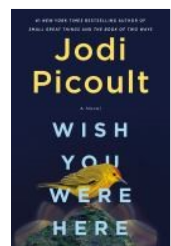

THE MIDNIGHT LOCK BY JEFFREY DEAVER

A woman awakes in the morning to find that someone has picked her apartment's supposedly impregnable door lock and rearranged her belongings. The intrusion is a message to New York City of the carnage to come. Lincoln Rhyme and Amelia Sachs are brought in to investigate. The Midnight Lock is a roller-coaster read that features surprise after surprise and offers a fascinating look at the world of lock-picking.

WISH YOU WERE HERE BY JODI PICOULT

Diana O'Toole's plan for a perfect life is sent spinning when the pandemic strands her alone in the Galapagos Islands. In the islands where Darwin's theory of evolution by natural selection was formed, Diana finds herself examining her relationships, her choices, and herself. She's wondering if, when she goes home, she too will have evolved into someone completely different.

Working her graveyard shift, LAPD Detective Renée Ballard is called to a scene where an auto shop owner has been fatally hit by a bullet during a crowded street party. Ballard concludes the death is linked to another unsolved murder — a case worked by Detective Harry Bosch. As the two detectives work together to find out where their old and new cases intersect, the brutal predators they are tracking are ready to kill to keep their secrets hidden.
